SUMMARY MINUTES

CITY/COUNTY TELECOMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION Wednesday, November 19, 2025

VANCOUVER CITY COUNCIL CHAMBERS
415 W 6th Street, Vancouver, Washington

APPROVED AGENDA

I. CALL TO ORDER – 3:30 p.m.

A. Introduction of New Commissioners

Green announced that the Commission welcomes new Commission members Jason Burt, Gerald Gaule, Chris Gibson and Cemal Richards. All Commission members introduced themselves.

B. Roll Call

PRESENT: Burt, Gaule, Gibson, Green, Hinds, Maas, Nygard, Richards

EXCUSED: None

ABSENT: None

STAFF PRESENT: Archer, Demmon, Driskell, Peck

C. Approval of Minutes for May 7, 2025

Minutes approved as unanimously.

D. Review and Approval of Agenda for November 19, 2025

No changes.

II. CITIZEN COMMUNICATIONS

Green commented on the disruption that his neighborhood experienced during Ziply Fiber installation work. He stated that there was no notification that work was going to begin. He wanted to know what franchise notification requirements broadband providers need to provide.

Demmon stated that staff will follow up with the appropriate City staff and provide that information to the Commission. (The Commission was informed that door hangers are to be placed 48 hours prior to construction starts. If requested, Ziply will provide a date stamped picture of the door hanger at a particular address. The City also requires yard signs with contact information to be placed a minimum of one week prior to work in the neighborhoods.)

III. OLD BUSINESS

A. Legal Briefing Regarding Commission Role

Driskell stated that a memo from legal counsel (attached) was provided to the Commission in their packets addressing a Commission inquiry into expanding the Commission's advisory role to include areas other than cable television oversight.

Driskill explained that in both the City and County codes, the role of the Commission is clearly defined. He reminded the Commission that last year when the Vancouver and Clark County Councils decided to reduce the number of meetings held by the Commission due to a limited workload, there was also discussion on whether the role of the Commission should be expanded. Both Councils determined that the Commission's role would not be expanded.

Driskell said that in both state and federal law local jurisdictions do not have the authority to regulate broadband services or content. He stated that there is no basis in the law for the Commission to expand its oversight related to broadband.

Green thanked legal counsel for their work on providing the Commission with the information. He said that a majority of Commission members have expertise in telecommunications issues and could provide valuable insight/guidance on some of those issues – not to advise policy. He added that the Commission could provide a resource for cable and broadband customers to be heard on issues they're experiencing with providers. He said that staff and the Commission have built a good relationship with Comcast and they are very responsive when customer issues are brought to their attention.

Driskill responded that the relationship between cable television providers and local jurisdictions has been cultivated over the many years of cable television regulation, especially when there wasn't any other competition. He added that improved customer service is often borne out of increased competition. He said that the City has granted five broadband franchises in the last 18 months and two more going through the process. Customers now have choices and if they aren't satisfied with their experience with one provider, they can choose to go to another.

Archer stated that the County is also granting several broadband franchises to serve unincorporated Clark County.

Driskill added that he understands the request from the Commission to increase their role was to provide a greater service to the community.

IV. NEW BUSINESS

A. PEG Committee

1. Report on PEG Capital Support and Funding Recommendations

Maas stated that the PEG subcommittee reviewed all the grant submissions and recommended that they all be funded as requested.

ACTION: THE COMMISSION UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED RESOLUTION 2025-01 REGARDING RECOMMENDATIONS TO AWARD PEG CAPITAL SUPPORT FUNDS TO DESIGNATED ACCESS PROVIDERS (attached).

Demmon reminded the Commission that their recommendation will be forwarded to the legislative bodies for final approval and both bodies must approve the grants for them to be distributed. (The grants were approved by City Council on December 1, 2025, and County Council on December 2, 2025.)

2. TV ETC Update

Zander Hayes, TV ETC Program Coordinator, provided an update on TV ETC activities.

Hayes reported that enrollment in video production classes in member districts is now back to pre-pandemic levels serving approximately 2,000 students across the three districts. He added that the quality and creativity of the videos produced have improved this school year.

Hayes shared a video highlighting programming produced in the member districts. He explained that one of the video clips is from a collaborative 3-D animation project with Heritage High School students and students from Perth, Australia.

3. Clark/Vancouver Television Update

Demmon the Commission for their PEG Grant funding recommendations. He stated that CVTV's new website launched late this past summer and he provided a review of the website features.

Green asked if the website was integrated into social media.

Demmon responded that CVTV currently streams City Council meetings live on Facebook and provides links back the CVTV website on other City social media platforms. He also stated that the City has just launched a new podcast that CVTV is producing.

Hinds commented that there is no City or County branding at the top of the CVTV website homepage. He wondered if that was by design.

Demmon responded that was the intent. He added that the City and County logos are further down the page with links to each jurisdiction's websites. He said that both the City and County provide links of meeting coverage directly back to the CVTV website.

Mass stated that he references the CVTV coverage of the Clark County Veterans Advisory Board as he prepares minutes for those meetings.

Green stated that he's glad to hear that the community is watching CVTV's election videos as local races do not get coverage from the Portland news stations.

Gibson asked if either TV ETC or CVTV have incorporated AI technology into their operations.

Demmon responded that closed captioning of CVTV programming is generated by AI technology. He also explained that there are new federal accessibility laws that will become effective in April 2026 which will require description audio on CVTV short, edited programming. Staff are looking at different tools to provide this service that will be generated by AI.

B. Review and Adopt Tentative Meeting Schedule for 2026

Demmon reviewed the 2026 tentative meeting schedule with the two Commission meetings set for May 6 and November 18. The Commission unanimously adopted the proposed meeting schedule.

Richards asked about the status of the vacant County position on the Commission.

Demmon responded that the County has selected a replacement and their appointment awaits the County Council approval.

V. COMMUNICATIONS

A. Comcast

Samantha Ridderbusch, Comcast Director, Government & Regulatory Affairs for the Pacific Northwest region, was at a conference out of town and unable to attend the meeting.

B. Commission

No further Commission communications.

C. Staff

Demmon stated that the Comcast 2026 rate increase notice was distributed at their places prior to the meeting (attached).

Demmon informed the Commission that their next meeting would be held in City Hall in the Aspen Conference room as the Council Chambers would be undergoing a remodel.

Accessibility standards for presenting at broadcast meetings

Updated: April 9, 2026

Accessibility is a required part of how local government agencies communicate with our community. The Department of Justice's new rule on the accessibility of web content provided by state and local governments requires us to meet WCAG 2.1/2.2 AA for all digital content so everyone, regardless of disability or functional need, can access the information and participate

Use these standards when you are going to present at a meeting that will be broadcast or recorded for later viewing. It outlines the standards agencies must meet to ensure your meetings comply with WCAG 2.1 AA.

Presenting at the meeting

To meet WCAG 2.1/2.2 Level AA standards for audio descriptions, all participants should verbally describe essential visual information. This means describing anything that a sighted person would understand from visual cues.

- Introduce yourself with your name and role.
- Speak clearly and at a moderate pace.
- Pause when transitioning between slides or screens.
- Use plain language
 - Don't use jargon
 - Be direct and use short sentences
 - Define acronyms on first use
- Describe actions that matter
 - "I am going to invite our consultant <name, title> to join me at the presenter's table."

- “We have guests from <name of group> in the audience that I am going to invite to the presenter’s table to <describe what they are going to do>.”
- Read aloud key text that appears on the presentation slides
 - Don’t say, “As you can see here...”
 - Provide context, describe the meaning, not just the appearance of visuals.
 - Describe charts, maps, and other visuals.
 - Read out labels, legends, and key data points.
 - If applicable, read out the contact details or how to participate information at the end of the presentation.

Presenting Virtually

When presenting virtually, presenters must follow the same standards as a presenter who is in the room; however, virtual presenters must take additional steps to ensure full accessibility, including:

- Use a reliable microphone or headset (avoid speaking into laptop speakers).
- Add your name to the “display name” setting in Microsoft Teams or other virtual meeting apps.
- Minimize background noise by presenting from an office or private room.
- Stay muted when not speaking.
- Present in a well-lit location (not backlit from a window or lamp).
- Position the camera at eye-level.
- Speak slightly slower than you would if you were in the room.

Description examples for specific visuals

Blind and low-vision viewers should be able to receive the same information as sighted viewers, presented in a way that is perceivable, understandable, and functionally equivalent across all formats. These examples will help you understand how to ensure these viewers have the same access as every other viewer.

Maps

Instead of: “As you can see on the map...”

Say: “The map on screen shows the proposed zoning changes. The area outlined in red covers about six city blocks along Main Street, from East 39th Street to East 40th Street. The proposed change is from residential to mixed-use.”

Say: “The blue shaded areas represent existing parks. The new proposed park is shown as a green rectangle on the east side of <street name>, just south of <street name>.”

Line graphs

Instead of: “As you can see, the line goes up...”

Say: “The line on the graph shows a steady rise from 150,000 residents in 2020 to 190,000 in 2025.”

Say: “The on-screen graph shows a sharp decline in 2020, dropping from 62 percent compliance to 48 percent compliance after the policy change.”

Bar charts

Instead of: “The bars show which precinct responded to the highest volume of calls for service in 2025.”

Say: “Station 8 in Cascade Park had the highest volume of calls in 2025, with 5,562 calls, while Station 4 on NE 147th had the lowest call volume, with 2,025 calls for service.”

Pie charts

Instead of: “The blue slice is the largest.”

Say: “Public safety services make up the largest portion of the budget at 80% percent, which is represented by the blue section on the on-screen pie chart.”

Multi-series charts

Instead of: “The red line is higher than the green one.”

Say: “In 2023, the red line representing vehicle traffic peaks at 42,000 daily trips, while the green line for bike traffic peaks at 8,500 daily trips.”

Trend charts

Instead of: “You can see that since Tiered Rates was implemented, we’re trending down.”

Say: “The overall trend on this chart shows a gradual decrease in water consumption since Tiered Rates were introduced in 2025 <from X-to-X amount>.”

Accessibility standards for elected and appointed officials at broadcast meetings

Updated: April 9, 2026

Accessibility is a required part of how local government agencies communicate with our community. The Department of Justice's new rule on the accessibility of web content provided by state and local governments requires us to meet WCAG 2.1/2.2 AA for all digital content so everyone, regardless of disability or functional need, can access the information and participate

Use these standards when you are presiding at a meeting that will be broadcast or recorded for later viewing. It outlines the standards agencies must meet to ensure your meetings comply with WCAG 2.1 AA.

Presiding at the meeting

To meet WCAG 2.1/2.2 Level AA standards for audio descriptions, all participants should verbally describe essential visual information. This means describing anything that a sighted person would understand from visual cues.

As the presiding officer, you control the pace, structure, and adherence to the standards during the meeting.

Presiding

- Introduce yourself with your name and title.
- Speak clearly and at a moderate pace.
- Call on speakers by name.
- Remind speakers to speak into microphones.

- Clearly introduce each meeting section.
 - “We are now moving to the Consent Agenda.”
- Restate motions and amendments before voting.
- Watch for signs that participants cannot hear, see, or follow the discussion
 - Intervene when accessibility rules are not being followed
- Use plain language
 - Be direct and use short sentences, don’t use jargon
- Describe actions that matter and provide verbal navigation, for example:
 - “I am going to invite <name> to take a seat at the presenter’s table.”
 - “We have guests from <name of group> in the audience that I would like to invite to the presenter’s table to accept the proclamation.”
 - “We’re going to pause to take a group photo.”
 - When referring to documents or slides, use the page number and describe what you are talking about.

Interacting with other board or commission members

Make sure other board or commission members introduce themselves before they speak. It may be helpful to have members reintroduce themselves if the meeting runs long or as you move between sections.

Say: “Councilmembers, we are now on Item 5. If anyone wishes to speak, please indicate, and I will call on you in order.”

Say: “Before we move to a motion, I’ll open the floor for Council discussion.”

Procedural accessibility/voting

- State the motion clearly before calling for a vote.
- Announce each voting option verbally (“All in favor... All opposed...”).
- Confirm the result verbally.

Interacting with staff

- Always identify the person you are calling on by name and role.
- Provide context for why you are asking them to speak when necessary.
- When they finish speaking, thank them by name and move on.

Say: “Before we continue, I’m going to ask City Manager <Name> to provide some additional context.”

Say: “We’ll pause here so City Attorney <Name> can address the legal question that was raised.”

Say: “Council Assistant <Name>, please call for the vote.”

Say: “I’d like to ask our Homeless Response Manager, <Name>, to have a seat at the presenter’s table to answer that question.”

Say: “We’re going to take a brief pause in our meeting to take a photo.”

Participating as a board or committee member

As an elected or appointed board member, you can help the presiding officer reinforce adherence to the standards.

Participating

- Always turn on your microphone and make sure you are close enough for it to pick up your voice.
- Introduce yourself the first time you speak. If the meeting runs long or more people join, consider reintroducing yourself.
- Speak at a measured pace.
- Wait for the presiding officer to recognize you.
- Don’t talk over colleagues, staff, or the public. Overlapping speech breaks captions and makes interpretation more difficult.
- Avoid rapid-fire questions. Ask questions one at a time and give the presenter time to answer fully.
- Summarize complex exchanges.
 - “To summarize, staff is saying the new timeline is six months longer but will be within budget.”
- If you change topics, make sure you communicate it.
 - Say, “I’m changing topics now to discuss the parking requirements...”
 - Say, “I need you to go back to slide 5...”

Making motions and voting

- State your motion clearly.
- If you are seconding, state your second clearly.
- During a roll call vote, wait for the Council Assistant to call on you and state your “yeah” or “nay” clearly.

Description examples for specific visuals

Dear Commissioners,

As part of this application, you will find two, two-week stretches of program schedules from each of TV ETC's three channels. From September 28 - October 11, 2025, the station aired live broadcasts of five football and five volleyball games, as well as one soccer game. In the weeks from March 29 - April 11, 2026 you will see a shift in our broadcast schedules to begin integrating the 25 WIAA basketball tournament games covered by VPS video production students last month in Tacoma. These programs are just a snapshot of the consistent and quality work of our districts' students and staff.

TV ETC's designation application looks similar to last year, with a 20 hour increase in live productions. This has come as part of our improved sports content, which this year included full-day coverage of Special Olympics basketball at Columbia River High School. In the last year, the station has aired over 200 hours of live events, and over 380 total hours of original programming. To provide some context, there are 180 instructional days on a Washington State public school's calendar. This means districts combine, on average, to produce over 2 hours of new content per instructional day per year. This year, that included over two dozen live football and basketball games, nearly 50 concerts, 19 graduations, school board meetings, student-produced news content, and works of creative film making.

I would like to thank our school districts for their continued investment of time and resources into this program. Our school communities are grateful for the continued support of the Telecommunications Commission, the City of Vancouver, Clark County, and Comcast for giving students countless hands-on learning experiences and helping us share the good in our schools.

Sincerely,
